R.A.F. DRAW FIRST BLOOD IN GERMAN AERIAL BLITZ ON GREECE: FIVE DOWNED IN "MONEY FOR JAM" ACTION

THE AERIAL BLITZ BY GERMANY AGAINST GREECE HAS GIVEN FIRST BLOOD TO THE ROYAL AIR FORCE.

A SMALL FORMATION OF HURRICANES, ALTHOUGH OUTNUMBERED BY TWO TO ONE, DESTROYED FIVE MESSERSCHMITT-109'S IN THE RUPEL PASS AREA ON SUNDAY, STATES A REUTER MESSAGE.

SEVERAL OTHER MESSERSCHMITTS WERE DAMAGED in an action described by the leader of the formation as "MONEY FOR JAM."

"We spotted a lot of Messerschmitt-109's and weighed in and shot down five for certain, damaging a number of others," he said.

"SICKENING TECHNIQUE" OF THE GERMANS

Herr Hitler's spring offensive—preceded by the whole "sickening technique" and "dreadful fabrications or distortions" as THE TIMES writes—is analysed by leader writers, who agree that this time aggression meets a new situation, says Reuter.

The Times adds that the "gravity of the hour does not need emphasis, but though anxious and hazardous days are in store, the comparison with the situation a year ago gives ample grounds for reason to be cautious and to hope. Last April, Herr Hitler was taking the first in a well-planned campaign for the destruction of the principal enemy."

THE MANCHESTER GUARDIAN writes: "This time we have taken the measure of our treacherous enemy and are ready for him."

"Having a plan is one thing and realising it is another."

Remark that for the first time, Herr Hitler has made a declaration of war, the DAILY TELEGRAPH says: "Germany's haunting fear of a war on two fronts, is already a stark reality. The trust of Greece in a British support has been fully justified. Yugoslavia is assured that she will not be left to defend her honour and freedom without aid."

U.S. OPTIMISM
NEW YORK, Apr. 7 (Reuter)—

Yugoslavs Hurrying To Serve

SYDNEY, Apr. 7 (Reuter)—Yugoslavs, of whom there are some 2,000 in Australia, are hurrying to the consulate here offering to enlist, or to serve in some capacity.

The Greek Consul-General states that many Greeks are joining the Australian Imperial Forces.

SHIPS READY
NEW YORK, Apr. 7 (Reuter)—Captains of Yugoslav ships, totaling 200,000 tons, declared they were in readiness to carry supplies to the Mediterranean and to the Adriatic.

A thousand Yugoslavs in America have already volunteered to fight.

Today's News Summary

THE ROYAL AIR FORCE scored a big success in the Rupe Pass area in Greece on Sunday when a small formation of Hurricanes destroyed five Messerschmitts and damaged several others. The Greeks shot down six German planes and destroyed ten tanks. Yugoslav planes raided places in Hungary and Rumania.

THE LANDING of British forces in Greece is welcomed in the British Press. It was a tremendous and unprecedented effort on the part of the Royal Navy.

BULGARIA HAS declared that she will spare no efforts to keep her land out of war while Hungary has also defined her foreign policy.

THE SIGNING of the Soviet-Yugoslav non-aggression pact is welcomed in London as well as by Press comment in Moscow.

MR. MATSUOKA, the Japanese Foreign Minister, has arrived in Moscow on his return journey to Tokyo from Berlin and Rome.

THE PILOT of a Beaufort aircraft of the Coastal Command, on his first operational flight, scored a direct hit on a German destroyer off the coast of France.

FOREIGN POLICY OF HUNGARY

VICHY, Apr. 7 (Reuter)—"Hungary's foreign policy which has always been directed towards peace, is now confronted with events which have resulted in an extension of the war," states a Budapest despatch received here.

"Now that war has broken out in the neighbourhood, which may constitute a threat to Hungary, Hungary will seek to keep the war as far as possible from its frontiers. Hungary cannot avoid taking certain precautions for the protection of Hungarian interests."

MATSUOKA IN MOSCOW

MOSCOW, Apr. 7 (Reuter)—Mr. Matsuoka, the Japanese Foreign Minister, who left Berlin on Saturday evening after seeing Herr Hitler and Herr von Ribbentrop, arrived here at 11.20 today.

Beaufort Pilot Scores Direct Hit On German Destroyer On His First Operational Flight

LONDON, Apr. 7 (Reuter)—A DIRECT HIT AMIDSHIPS WAS SCORED ON A GERMAN DESTROYER by a pilot of the Coastal Command Beaufort aircraft, after making his first operational flight. He afterwards beat off attacks made by two Messerschmitts.

The Beaufort, says the Air Ministry, sighted three German destroyers yesterday a few miles off the coast of North-West France.

The pilot dived and released his torpedo before the escorting Messerschmitts could intercept.

The crew saw the torpedo make a direct hit on one of the destroyers, throwing up a great spout of water. The German fighters afterwards swooped on the Beaufort, which went down to sea level, circled ten feet above water and returned the Messerschmitts' fire so fiercely that they broke off the engagement.

A SECOND HIT

A second German destroyer was hit yesterday by the Coastal Command aircraft, states an Air Ministry communique.

It says: "Enemy warships, supply vessels and troops were once more attacked in daylight by aircraft of the Coastal, Bomber and Fighter Commands."

One Coastal Command aircraft torpedoed a German destroyer off the North-West coast of France. It is believed to have been sunk. Another destroyer was damaged by a bomb which struck her bows.

At Ymuiden, in Holland, clouds of smoke arose when bombs fell among furnaces of iron and steel works. German troops, aerodromes, transport and gun emplacements were attacked from low altitudes by British fighters; an enemy aircraft, when attempting to land, was attacked and was probably destroyed.

Brest was attacked last night. Three machines are missing from day and one from night operations.

LONDON, Apr. 7 (Reuter)—A Dornier-17 was shot down and destroyed off the Suffolk coast by R.A.F. fighters this morning and a Messerschmitt-109 met a similar fate off Cap Gris Nez, France, during the morning.

Massawa Watched From Sea By British Navy

THE ITALIANS ADMIT THE CAPTURE OF ADDIS ABABA BY THE BRITISH and say that the Fascist forces withdrew to save the civilian population, which is safe and unharmed, according to Reuter.

Thus, the only places of importance still in Italian hands in East Africa, are the Red Sea port of Massawa, the Abyssinian town of Dessie and a few other towns. Massawa is being watched from the sea by British naval units, to prevent the escape of whatever German or Italian vessels might be there, while among the forces approaching by land, are the Free French troops, including units of the French Foreign Legion, who served in Narvik.

PUNJAB PREMIER'S SON SAFE

LAHORE, Apr. 7 (Reuter)—Lieutenant Shaukat Hyat, Khan, eldest son of Sir Sukander Hyat Khan, Premier of the Punjab, who had been taken prisoner by the Italians last November, was released on April 2. He is slightly indisposed and hopes to join his unit shortly.

This news was received by the Punjab Premier through Army Headquarters in India.

THE BRITISH PLANES SUFFERED NOT A SINGLE LOSS.

British bombers also attacked objectives in Rumania and a German reconnaissance machine was shot down in the Athens area on Sunday morning.

The Italian News Agency quotes reports from Bulgaria and Rumania to the effect that the suburbs of Sofia and three towns in Western Rumania, have been attacked by Yugoslav planes.

It added that the Rumanian Government made a formal protest to the Yugoslav Government. Budapest reports state that Yugoslav and British planes raided objectives in Hungary.

TEN TANKS DESTROYED

A communique issued in Athens states that the Greeks destroyed ten German tanks and brought down six German planes.

Greek fortifications resisted violent shelling and dive-bombing except in one instance. Some areas in national territory were evacuated according to plan in order to avoid useless sacrifice.

We maintained our lines unbroken against forces ten times our strength, said an official Greek spokesman who added that enormous forces which the Germans have massed for an attack were met with a terrible fire.

Finally the enemy, after making some progress, was held on the whole of the main front.

Bulgaria Attentive Observer

BERLIN, Apr. 7 (Reuter)—Sofia Radio states Bulgaria can only be a dispassionate attentive observer, according to a Sofia despatch to the German News Agency.

Bulgaria will do everything to spare her land from war.

MANY ARRESTS

LONDON, Apr. 7 (Reuter)—Many arrests of Bulgarian nationalists, who opposed participation in the war against Yugoslavia, are made in Bourgas, according to the Istanbul correspondent in Vichy.

Italy has declared the whole Mediterranean from the Aegean Sea to the limit of Turkish territorial waters as a war zone.

MARINE FOUND GUILTY

SHANGHAI, Apr. 7 (Reuter)—Roger Casement, United States Marine private, charged with the murder of his 15-month-old stepson Floyd Alan Sebastian, was found guilty of second degree murder at the United States Court for China and was sentenced to life imprisonment in McNeill's Island, San Francisco.

Casement heard the sentence calmly and without emotion. The case aroused tremendous interest, especially among womenfolk, who daily packed the Court.

SUCCESSFUL LANDING OF BRITISH FORCES IN GREECE: TREMENDOUS, UNPRECEDENTED EFFORT BY NAVY

BEHIND THE SUCCESSFUL LANDING OF BRITISH FORCES IN GREECE, LIES THE STORY OF THE TREMENDOUS AND UNPRECEDENTED EFFORT ON THE PART OF THE BRITISH NAVY.

The Navy's first task was to ensure safe arrival for the troops in the Middle East. This work has been going on ever since the Mediterranean opened as a theatre of war, and as the First Lord of the Admiralty recently mentioned in the House of Commons, it was accomplished without the loss of a single man, writes Reuter's Naval correspondent.

With the decision to send troops to Greece, the Navy had to face yet another problem of convoy work across from the Middle East and the assurance of supplies at a time when it was already fully occupied with the safeguarding of the flow of food and materials from the New World to Britain.

At the very moment when the Battle of the Atlantic is entering a fiercer phase, it took on this new task.

In the last war, the work of keeping the seas open, was divided among the navies of the five Powers—today the British Navy is tackling the job singlehanded. This latest exploit on the top of its other tasks must have strained its resources to the uttermost, but it quietly and methodically carried out and as far as hitherto known without serious incident.

FUNDAMENTAL AIMS OF SOVIET FOREIGN POLICY

Pact With Yugoslavia Will Be Greeted By Workers

LONDON, Apr. 7 (British Wireless)—The signature of the Soviet Union's pact of friendship and non-aggression with Yugoslavia is acclaimed through the Press as a highly important event, and prominence is given to the Moscow Press comments.

The ISVESTIA remarks that any act directed towards the strengthening of peace coincides with the fundamental and undeviating aims of the Soviet foreign policy, and the Pravda says that this document of peace will be greeted by the workers of the Soviet Union with the greatest satisfaction.

MESSAGE FROM BRITAIN

LONDON, Apr. 7 (British Wireless)—The following message from the British Government has been sent to the Government of Yugoslavia:

"The savage outrage committed by Germany against Yugoslavia without the slightest provocation, and the valiant resistance of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, ranges the British Empire upon the side of the Southern Slavs.

"We welcome them as a resolute and powerful ally. We renew the comradeship which, in the Great War, carried us through tribulation to victory.

"We will conduct the war in common, and we will make peace only when right has been vindicated and law and justice are again enthroned."

German Public Warned

LONDON, Apr. 7 (Reuter)—The German Radio yesterday warned the German public not to expect easy victories in the Balkans and "the German people knows it cannot expect a blitzkrieg in the mountains. Our troops are operating on difficult ground: the Serbs have always been tough fighters."

"The Balkans are a war theatre quite different from the previous ones in the East and West with many advantages for the defenders. Troop movements are difficult owing to scarcity of railways and the roads, and our men have frequently to blast rocks so as to clear a passage."

KOWLOON C.C. TROUNCE CIVIL SERVANTS TO RETAIN SHIELD

Brilliant Bowling By Lloyd Feature Of Encounter

BY "BARNABAS"

THE KOWLOON C. C. HAVE RETAINED THE SENIOR CHAMPIONSHIP AS THE RESULT OF THEIR WIN OVER THE CIVIL SERVICE C.C. last Saturday. The Junior Championship, however, is still open as both contenders (Kowloon C.C. and Craighower) won their matches. The title now depends on the result of the match between these two teams.

The Kowloon C.C. have to thank L.D. Lloyd for their victory which enabled them to secure the senior title. He bowled exceptionally well and took no less than 7 wickets for only 30 runs in 9.7 overs. Both Francis Zimmern and Robbie Lee were bowling far below form and Kowloon C.C. would certainly have had a tough time getting the Civil Servants out if Lloyd had bowled less brilliantly.

Though Teddy Fincher, the K. C. skipper, won the toss he sent the Civil Servants in to bat first. J. E. Richardson, K.J. Attwell and A.E. Perry lost their wickets very cheaply, but Bill Colledge and Tim Fortescue put up a stubborn resistance.

The latter in particular refused to take any chances with the bowling and was in consequence very slow in scoring. He was at the wicket for three-quarters of an hour and when he was eventually bowled by Lloyd he had only scored 15 runs.

Colledge, on the other hand, was batting with extreme confidence and was particularly severe on Zimmern's loose balls. With his score at 25 he cocked up an absurdly easy catch to Teddy Fincher off Zimmern whose bowling hitherto had not worried him in the least.

Lloyd made short work of the remaining Civil Service batsmen, except Hawkins who, fighting an up-hill battle, hit out to such good effect that in his comparatively short stay at the wicket he scored 27 runs before he was caught and bowled by Lloyd.

The whole team were out for 94 runs.

K.C.C. INNINGS

Donald Anderson and Duggie Hung opened the Kowloon C. C. innings to the bowling of F. Baker and A. E. Perry. Runs came along at a leisurely pace as both batsmen knew that time was an unimportant factor in the game.

With the score stood at 45 Duggie Hung was bowled by Perry for 14 runs. The latter was bowling very well and, apart from Hung's wicket, he also took those of Francis Jay, Norman Mackay and, lastly, of Donald Anderson.

Anderson had been playing a very patient innings and had scored 38 runs when he was caught by Dickie Richardson off Perry. The Kowloon C. C. score then stood at 90. Archie Zimmern and Teddy Fincher knocked off the required runs to win with six wickets to spare.

VARSITY WINS AGAIN

The University who have been the dark horse of the League brought off yet another victory, this time at the expense of Craighower whom they beat very easily at Pokfulam last Saturday. It is very likely that they will occupy the runners-up position at the end of the season.

Craighower turned up at Pokfulam with at least one man short—maybe two, as, of the ten men who batted for them, one looked suspiciously like a regular player for the Varsity juniors. With W. S. Gegg and Naranjan Singh bowling well for the University, Craighower were all out for only 77 runs. Gegg took 4 wickets for 10 runs and Naranjan Singh 3 for 11.

The Undergraduates knocked up the required number of runs for the loss of only 5 wickets. After a disastrous start, when K.Y. Tam lost his wicket for a blob they made a recovery, thanks to Clifford Matthews who made 33 runs before being unfortunately run out. Gegg and Hong Choy helped considerably with 22 not out and 15 not out respectively.

JUNIOR MATCHES

The two contenders for the Junior Championship (Kowloon C. C. and Craighower) won very easily last Saturday. The Kowloon C. C. Seconds played against the Civil Service at the Valley and won by 5 wickets.

The Civil Servants batted first and were all out for 84 runs. Only V. C. Bond and the veteran H. E. Strange seemed to be able to get going against the bowling of Goodwin and Hung. The former scored 29 and the latter 13. Goodwin took 3 wickets for 20 runs and Hung 5 for 31.

The first three batsmen gave the K.C.C. a good start. Rapley scored 18 runs, Kenneth Baxter 10 and Tommy Madar 28 not out. Another 23 from G. A. Goodban enabled Kowloon to overhaul the Civil Service score with five wickets in hand.

RECREIO TROUNCED

The match-winning features of the Craighower—Recreio match in the Second Division League were the brilliant bowling of Andy Omar and the third wicket partnership of 77 runs put up by Tommy Locke and Joe Leonard. As the result of this big partnership Craighower were able to put on the board the respectable score of 152.

Recreio found themselves up against an Omar (A.M.) whose bowling last Saturday seemed to have been inspired. In consequence their defence broke down and they were all out for a paltry 53 to enable Craighower to win handily by 99 runs.

Omar's exceptionally fine bowling earned for him eight Recreio wickets which he obtained for 24 runs in eleven overs, four of which

CORRESPONDENCE

MACAO RACING

To the Editor, The Hongkong Daily Press

Sir:—Being an ardent follower of the "King of Sports," I was terribly disappointed, and I am sure a vast majority of racegoers shares my opinion equally, as far as Sunday's racing is concerned, it was a complete flop and farce.

The Stewards have themselves to blame for disallowing some of our young jockeys to participate in the meet with the result that out of the six events on the card, five went out with only three starters, punters rely only on hot favourites, leaving no money to cash in, not mentioning the trouble and expense of journeying down all the way from Hongkong leave off enough those jockeys who went down for nothing.

Good racing will be the order of the day had the stewards allowed those keen riders to participate. There were enough ponies to make the events interesting.

Unless the Stewards put their heads together, racing in Macao will go on the downward grade and I doubt the racing fans will go down for the next meeting.

OPEN TENNIS DOUBLES

RUMJAHN COUSINS ENTER SEMI-FINAL: CHOA AND REMEDIOS WIN A SET

The holders of the Open Doubles tennis championship, S. A. and H. D. RUMJAHN, at the Stand Court yesterday eliminated GEORGE CHOA and A. V. REMEDIOS in three sets to enter the semi-finals in which they will meet Ho Ka-lau and K. H. Yip.

The holders won by 6-3, 5-7, 6-2.

The match started very tamely and when the Rumjahns easily annexed the first set everything seemed to point to a straight victory. Choa and Remedios, however, came back strongly and some of the best tennis was seen in this set.

There were many fine rallies when Remedios came to the fore but there were crucial moments when he would inexplicably net an easy winner.

H. D. Rumjahn, as usual, was the steady partner with "Sirdar" giving the more spectacular display. The latter's weak point was again his service and he double-faulted twice though he flashed over a few fast ones.

STORMED NET

After the losers ran into a lead of 4-1 the Rumjahns got down to their task in earnest and, storming the net at every opportunity, drew level at 4-all and then led 5-4, but Sirdar lost his service for the losers to level at 5-5. The latter eventually went out for set at 7-5.

Though the cousins won by 6-2 in the final set, Choa and Remedios were by no means beaten and put up a spirited fight. Crisp volleying duels were numerous and interesting but overhead the Rumjahns were the masters though there were occasions when the losers more than held their own.

CLUB RESULTS

The following were the results of Club tournament matches:—

H'cap Singles: T. J. Gould beat

T. C. Monaghan 6-1, 0-6, 6-1.

Championship: M. Pagh beat H. J. Armstrong 6-2, 7-5.

H'cap Doubles: C. H. R. Oxlade and A. H. Barwell beat F. W. Carter and E. N. Thursby 7-5, 6-4.

TODAY'S PROGRAMME

Some very fine tennis should be seen today when Paul Kong and Fung Yee-pui meet W. C. Hung and E. C. Fincher and it would be hard to forecast the outcome of this match.

CLUB MATCHES

R. H. Blake and H. C. D. Knight (-3/6) v. E. R. Childe and S. L. Maughan (-2/6); C. H. R. Oxlade (-15/2) v. R. E. Guest.

"I JUST CAME BACK FROM A VISIT TO HELL..."

I spent my life in a small German town, teaching the kindness and tolerance that decent people live by. One day armed men in brown shirts broke into my home... I was away from my daughter... I threw me into a Nazi concentration camp. What I have to tell you isn't propaganda... just the realistic truth that every American has a right to know!

NAZIS MEETING WITH STOUT RESISTANCE ON THE GREEK & YUGOSLAV FRONTS

British Troops Clash With Germans In The Struma Valley: Berlin Radio & Air Successes

LONDON, APR. 7 (REUTER).—"HAVING CROSSED THE SERB AND GREEK FRONTIERS OUR TROOPS are everywhere contacting the enemy and advancing according to plan despite difficult ground conditions and enemy resistance," states the German radio.

It claims 24 enemy planes brought down over Yugoslavia and 44 certainly destroyed on the ground against the loss of two German planes. It adds the strong German bomber-fighter forces attacked numerous military objectives in Yugoslavia on Sunday.

"Fortress Belgrade" was raided three during the day by strong bomber forces, numerous military targets were hit, many large fires caused heavy damage down the neighbourhood of the railway station and several aerodromes were bombed and machine-gunned.

Italian bombers attacked aerodromes in Herze Govina with good effect.

FIGHTING BETWEEN BRITISH, NAZIS

LONDON, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—First news of fighting between British and German forces is given in a Berlin dispatch to the official Italian news Agency. The dispatch says: "German forces which crossed the Greek frontier from Bulgaria are meeting with tenacious resistance from the British troops, particularly in the Struma Valley."

Greek troops are taking up new positions which have been fixed for them in advance, according to the latest reports from the frontier. They are marching to the front shouting "Long live the nation! Long live the King! Long live the Army! God is with us!"

The greatest enthusiasm reigns among the people of Macedonia and Thrace, the regions most directly concerned.

German planes yesterday bombed Salonika, according to Sofia reports received in Vichy.

GERMANS THROWN BACK

NEW YORK, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—The Greeks have thrown the Germans back in a counter-attack at one point and are fighting on Bulgarian soil, states unconfirmed reports reaching Ankara.

These reports are relayed by the Ankara correspondent of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Greek advanced forces on the eastern front are everywhere holding their own, it is officially announced, states the Athens radio.

IMPERIAL FORCES

LONDON, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—An official communique states that British, Australian and New Zealand troops are already in Greece and that the R.A.F. in Greece have been strongly reinforced.

ORDER OF DAY

ATHENS, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—A call to the Greek soldiers on the German front to prove themselves equals of their comrades on the Italian front is made by General Alexander Papagos, the Commander-in-Chief of the Greek Army, in his Order of the Day to the troops.

He refers with affection to the "British, our brothers in arms."

The message is in similar terms to that of the King of Greece to the people.

General Papagos says: "We shall resist and conquer as we have already conquered another enemy superior in numbers."

LONDON, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—King George of Greece, accompanied by Prime Minister M. Koritzis, drove through the streets of Athens yesterday morning, says the Athens correspondent of the Independent French agency.

In Athens, when the demonstrators reached the General Staff headquarters they demanded to be enrolled in the army and sent to the front.

In Salonika, crowds demonstrated in front of the British and Yugoslav Consulates.

BULGARIAN GOVT. PREPARES

LONDON, April 7 (Reuter).—The Bulgarian Government have ordered a complete black-out throughout the country from yesterday, states a Sofia dispatch to the German agency.

YUGOSLAV STAND PRAISED

New Yorkers' Message To Gen. Simovitch

NEW YORK, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—Eleven prominent Americans of German descent have sent a telegram to General Simovitch, Yugoslav Prime Minister, congratulating him on Yugoslavia's stand for independence.

The signatories include Wilhelm Sollmann, former German Minister of Interior, Dr. Christian Guass, Dean of Princeton College and Oswald Villard, well-known journalist.

The spokesman of the group, Dr. Bronisch, said the message was really addressed to the whole of the people of Yugoslavia.

TEXT OF MESSAGE

The message reads: "Millions of Americans of German descent are opposed to Hitlerism and devoted to the cause of freedom and support the united stand of all Yugoslavians for independence in their brave resistance to Nazi aggression. We are especially encouraged by the support given you by Yugoslavians of German descent."

Australia To Support Yugoslavia, Greece

SYDNEY, April 7 (Reuter).—"Yugoslavia and Greece will be aided with all our possible resources" in accordance with Mr. Winston Churchill's pledge, declared Sir Frederick Stewart, the Australian Minister of External Affairs.

He added that the Yugoslav-Soviet Non-aggression Pact suggested that Russia now regarded with anxiety the German intentions in the Balkans.

Hitler's latest act of aggression is received with seething comment in the Australian press.

LONDON, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—British fighters attacked aerodromes, lorries and gun emplacements in Occupied France yesterday, states the Air Ministry.

Until the last moment, Yugoslavia endeavoured to maintain peace in the Balkans.

M. Subbotitch called at the Foreign Office yesterday morning and was in conference with members of the British Government for some time.

MORALE HIGH

LONDON, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—All communications with Belgrade are cut off but reports reaching here through diplomatic channels state that the morale of the army and civilians in Yugoslavia is very high.

It is understood that three German divisions are moving from the north towards Yugoslavia, one through Szegedin in Hungary (on the Theiss which leads straight down to Belgrade), one armoured division towards the Rumanian Yugoslav frontier while it is reported to have already reached its objective, and one towards Maribor in Austria. The Germans are also attempting a drive on Skopje (Ustrib) in Southern Yugoslavia from Kustendian, in Bulgaria.

Seven German divisions are reported to be concentrated along the Turkish-Bulgarian frontier. There are 22 Bulgarian divisions along this frontier.

The Germans are apparently trying to drive a wedge between the Greek and Yugoslav troops in the neighbourhood of the entrance to the Vardar Valley.

TURKISH CONCENTRATIONS

Some express the opinion that the German forces in Bulgaria are insufficient for a joint attack on Greece and Yugoslavia, especially as the presence of large Turkish troop concentrations in Thrace must immobilise several German divisions.

All is quiet in Turkey. The Turks are watching the situation very closely and may be relied upon to take all the measures necessary to defend their liberty and independence, but their role at present would appear to be mainly defensive.

Many observers therefore expect Turkey to be neutral unless some new factor should enter the situation.

London, Washington Views On Yugoslav-Soviet Pact

LONDON, April 7 (Reuter).—The Yugoslav-Soviet Pact is regarded in authoritative circles in London as a most encouraging development.

This view is also taken in Washington, according to reports received here. Mr. Sumner Welles, Assistant Secretary of State, declared in an interview that he was specially interested in this pact, adding: "Many are going to be interested. The agreement might have the greatest significance. It must mean encouragement to Yugoslavia and Greece, and it is important to Turkey."

The Navy Secretary, Colonel Frank Knox, declaring that the German action was no surprise to the United States Government, added: "We shall send Yugoslavia and Greece all the munitions we can get to them."

"The barbaric invasion of Yugoslavia: the attempt to annihilate that country by brute force is another chapter in the present planned movement of attempted world conquest and domination," declared Mr. Cordell Hull.

"Another small nation has been assaulted by forces of aggression and this is further proof that there are no geographical limitations or bounds of any kind to the movement for world conquest."

OUTRAGEOUS ATTACK

"The American people have the greatest sympathy for the nation which has been thus so outrageously attacked and we follow closely the valiant struggle the Yugoslav people are making to protect their homes and preserve their liberty."

"This Government, with its policy of helping those who are defending themselves against would-be conquerors, is now proceeding as speedily as possible to send military and other supplies to Yugoslavia."

Mr. Cordell Hull has directed the American Legation in Belgrade to keep open but has notified the Minister that he should preferably remain with the Yugoslav Government.

U.S. AID

WASHINGTON, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—After consultation with President Roosevelt, Mr. Cordell Hull stated that the United States Government is proceeding as speedily as possible to send military and other supplies to Yugoslavia.

Campaign Not Yet Ended

Italians Ordered To Hold Addis Ababa

LONDON, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—The wording of the communique regarding the reaching of Addis Ababa may seem curious.

An interpretation may be that the Italian garrison has withdrawn.

The fall of Addis Ababa does not mean the immediate end of the campaign for the Italians had orders to hold on as long as possible in Abyssinia but it may be surmised that we are near the end.

Probably the Italian native troops are giving trouble and are proving difficult to handle.

EMPEROR HAPPY

"The Empress of Ethiopia is exceedingly happy" that Ethiopia, first victim of Italian aggression, has had freedom restored," declared the Private Secretary of the Empress after she had been informed that British Imperial forces had reached Addis Ababa.

The Secretary added that the Empress was grateful to God and the British Empire.

The Empress is at present residing in England.

NEAR MASSAWA

CAIRO, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—Patrols of the Free French forces have reached a point only eight miles from Massawa, it is learned.

CHINESE FORCES LAUNCH ATTACK ON NANCHANG

KIAN, Apr. 7 (Central).—Chinese forces advancing on Nanchang, former Kiangsi capital and principal Japanese base in northern Kiangsi, are making rapid progress. Following the capture of Luwangtien, strategic point west of Nanchang, on April 4, the Chinese are launching a vigorous assault on Nanchang itself.

The Chinese column driving toward Anyi, 20 miles north-west of Nanchang, occupied Shihshankai on April 3 and is thrusting forward without encountering any serious Japanese resistance.

A severe clash occurred to Singchiang north-west of Kiukiang, on March 28, when a Chinese detachment made a surprise attack on the Japanese there and inflicted numerous casualties.

A message from Chungking states that Chinese troops driving toward Anyi, north Kiangsi town 20 miles north-west of Nanchang, have reached Sungfow, south of Anyi. The Japanese are retreating to Anyi in disorder.

JAPANESE ENCIRCLED

NORTH HUNAN, Apr. 7 (Central).—The recent Chinese victory in north Kiangsi indicated that the Chinese Army had grown stronger while Japan's military strength had further declined, commented a Chinese high staff officer in an interview yesterday.

The officer revealed that in accordance with pre-conceived plans the Chinese drew the Japanese invaders to the neighbourhood of Shangkao and Kuanchiao, encircled them and subjected them to annihilating attacks.

The officer said that had there not been a gap in the encirclement, the Japanese would have been totally annihilated.

OFFICER CAPTURED

TUNGCHENG, Apr. 7 (Central).—A Japanese medical officer was taken prisoner on the night of Mar. 30 when Chinese troops raided the Japanese barracks at Tienchiachueh, south-east of Tashaping in south Hupeh.

LONDON, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—No enemy air activity has been reported over England since dusk.

NEED FOR FURTHER RECRUITING TO THE RANKS OF ST. JOHN AMBULANCE BRIGADE STRESSED BY GOVERNOR

Presentation Of Long Service Medals At Annual Inspection

The need for further recruiting to the ranks of the St. John Ambulance Brigade was stressed by His Excellency the Governor, SIR GEOFFREY NORTHCOTE, K.C.M.G., Knight of Grace, Venerable Order of St. John of Jerusalem, when he addressed the parade of the Brigade at the Open Naval Recreation Ground, Causeway Bay, yesterday evening.

"I am sorry to learn that though the Brigade has maintained its strength, it has not been able to increase it up to the establishment, which the needs of the Colony require," His Excellency said.

"I cannot stress too strongly the need for increasing the strength of the Brigade up to the full total required and I urge upon every one of you to serve as recruiting officers for the Brigade and not to rest until you have been able to bring to your ranks another 200 nurses and another 300 ambulance members, which will complete our proper complement."

His Excellency, attended by Lt. K. E. Young, A.D.C., and Mr. Fung Ping-fan, Hon. A.D.C., was met by Mr. E. H. Raymond, Assistant Commissioner, Mr. A. E. Arculli, District Superintendent, Dr. Li Shu-fan, Brigade Surgeon, and other officers.

Among those present were Air Chief Marshal Sir Robert Brooke-Popham, H. E. Major-General A. E. Grasett, His Honour Sir Atholl MacGregor and Lady MacGregor, Hon. Capt. A. C. Collinson, R.N., Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith and Mrs. Smith, Commander J. Petrie, Hon. Sir Robert Kotewall, Hon. Mr. A. B. Purves, Hon. Dr. P. S. Selwyn-Clarke, Major J. L. Willcocks, Prof. Gordon King, Surgeon Commander Rutherford, Mr. Alfred Morris, Mr. Tang Shu-kin, Mr. Ho Kom-tong, Mr. F. C. Hall, Lt. Col. H. B. L. Dowbiggin, Mr. W. R. Scott, Dr. Tseung Fat-in, Mr. Ip Lan-chuen, Mrs. Albert Raymond, Dr. and Mrs. D. J. Valentine, Major and Mrs. E. C. Frederick, Mr. Tse Ka-po, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Dovey, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. H. Phillips and many others.

GOVERNOR'S SPEECH

His Excellency said:—
Officers and Members of the St. John Ambulance Association.—It is with very much pleasure that I find myself with you again today. Last year I was unfortunately laid up and this annual inspection was most kindly held by His Excellency Major General A.E. Grasett at very short notice. I thanked him then and I thank him again today for the valuable help which he gave us on that occasion.

The past year has been a period of great difficulty and stress and I am very glad to learn that the Brigade has come through it so well. I know from reports which I have received that a great deal of most useful training of an intensive kind has been given in First Aid Post work—one of the primary duties, of course, of the Brigade—and that the result has been a great increase in general efficiency: this is a reflection which it is very pleasant to be able to make in times such as these.

I know also that there are certain improvements connected with your equipment and training which the Assistant Commissioner wishes Government to provide. I never like to promise what I may not be able to perform, but I do promise to consider those needs with a sympathetic mind, and I hope that it will be possible to meet his requests at any rate in part.

LASTING BENEFIT

Nine months ago you were partially mobilised and for the space of a month all those who could be spared from their regular employment underwent a full course of lectures, practical work, route marching and so forth. I have no doubt that that month's hard work will be of lasting benefit to the Brigade, creating as it did a nucleus of highly trained members who can take their places at once at the First Aid Posts throughout the Colony.

That training was not undertaken in great comfort, the weather was particularly unkind to you, but I am told—as, knowing you, I should expect to be told—that notwithstanding climatic hardships, your zeal and enthusiasm remained unabated; indeed I am given to understand that those who took part in this training, though at times wet and weary, came out of it with a sense of great enjoyment.

Another instance of valuable training work put in by the Brigade last year was participation by the St. John Military Unit in several military all-day manoeuvres.

I understand from His Excellency the General Officer Commanding that the unit showed up very well and I heartily congratulate its members. The same is true of the Motor Transport Division, which, I learn, served very efficiently in several First Aid Post exercises during the year.

VALUE TO COMMUNITY

Once again the past year has shown how well the Brigade can serve the community by means of vaccination and inoculation when epidemics are imminent or rife; that the Brigade should have carried out close on 130,000 vaccinations and 6,000 inoculations during the year is sufficient proof of its value to the community.

As you know, the Association last year gave over the administration of certain New Territories clinics and the hospital at Cheung Chau, which was so generously given by Mr. Aw Boon Haw. These passed into the capable hands of Mr. A. Morris, your late Director, to whom the Brigade owes much, and whom we are very glad to see here today. These institutions, greatly beneficial though they are to the people whom they serve, lie nevertheless outside the proper function of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem.

We have been very glad to be of service to the New Territories community in the past by maintaining these institutions, but we recognised that it was inevitable that in course of time they must be relinquished to other hands.

NEW VICTIMS OF AGGRESSION

DRIVEN DESPERATE by the series of disappointments and rebuffs meted out to the Axis Powers, Herr Hitler has unleashed his fury against two more victims. The invasion of Yugoslavia and Greece in the early hours of Sunday morning, although it has shocked the entire civilised world, did not come entirely as a surprise to those principally concerned in this new display of ruthlessness and perverted conduct. Some form of reply to the setbacks which Nazi intrigue and underhand diplomacy have had to accept of late was, of course, expected. When Herr Hitler failed to get Yugoslavia into his clutches, owing to the courageous action taken by King Peter, it was generally believed that he would not allow this blow to his prestige to remain unanswered for long. There were those who felt, however, that because Herr Hitler had made his plans for a bloodless seizure of Yugoslavia, he had not provided for the possibility of having to resort to force to accomplish his object and that, therefore, he was not quite prepared for entering on large-scale hostilities in the Balkans. Thus, a short pause in the developments was expected while the Nazis reorganised their diplomatic and military campaign to meet the new situation.

THERE WAS reasonable justification for this assumption, which was more or less based on the fact that the German Fuehrer had always shown a disinclination to be involved in actual military operations in South-Eastern Europe, where he had hitherto been able to wage a fairly successful war of nerves to get what he wanted. Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary were the early fruits of his methods. The coup d'etat in Yugoslavia provided the first instance of his calculations along these lines being upset and it was naturally believed that he would require a little time to reconsider the position in the matter of military action against those countries in the Balkans which had shown a determination to resist his overtures. What was apparently overlooked in arriving at such a conclusion was once again the time factor, which is today Herr Hitler's greatest enemy. The fact that he has now been reluctantly forced to set the Balkan powder magazine alight, while not yet fully prepared, shows how frantic his race against time has become. He no doubt realised that Yugoslavia and Greece, with the spontaneous help which was promised them by Britain and the United States, would soon be able to put up a resistance which would be as impregnable as that which Great Britain now presents him. He could not permit this to happen nor to give other countries brought under his heel in the Balkans the opportunity of being infused with the same ideas.

THE PLUNGE had to be taken immediately and the

PROF. FORSTER ON BAD AND GOOD SIDE OF WAR

BRITAIN REALISES IMPORTANCE OF LEADERSHIP OF YOUTH

That war had its bad side, in that it disturbed the normal going of the schools, and also had its good side, in that it stimulated experiments which would never have been carried out if war had not taken place, was the view expressed by PROF. L. FORSTER in his presidential address to the Education Society of Hongkong University at the Union Assembly Room yesterday evening.

The subject of his speech was "War and its Influence on Education," in which he expounded at length the effects, moral, spiritual and religious, which the war has brought upon the educational class of Great Britain, and dealt briefly with the same in Germany and in China.

The leadership of youth in wartime, in the opinion of the speaker, was most urgent and the formation of boys' clubs and girls' clubs among the whole nation was sufficient proof that Great Britain fully realised this importance.

NEVER STRONGER

The appreciation of old buildings, which were the spirit of the past the legacy of the ancient, were never stronger in the people's hearts than now, continued Prof. Forster.

"Nothing angers people more than the destruction of the old Guild Hall. The destruction of the Bank of England would have angered less, although it would have lost much more."

Other effects were, according to the speaker, new emphasis on religion, literature and science.

The situation in Germany was that the ideal of youth was to become soldiers, much contempt being showered upon scholarship.

Regarding China, Prof. Forster said that the most talked of was her universities, which played a very important part in her life. Aggressive nations like Germany and Japan knew that universities were places where tradition and high ideals of the nation were preserved and most ably defended.

CUT OFF THINKING

The speaker then went on to relate various incidents to show that Japan had been trying to cut off the thinking part of China so that her conquest would be made easier and concluded by saying that universities consisted of something more than buildings—they were living things—and China's universities were still going on despite great hardships.

BODY IN HARBOUR

The body of an unidentified Chinese woman, aged about 44, was found floating in the harbour near Blake Pier, at 6 p.m. yesterday.

Balkan conflagration has now begun to rage.

The reasons given by the Nazis for this latest act of barbarism are couched in the now familiar phrases of British intrigue in the Balkans and the sudden discovery of "documents" (in Vichy this time!) to support the explanation that Britain herself was trying to dominate the Balkans! Herr Hitler's message to the Greek and Yugoslavian peoples that he is not fighting them, but the British, who, he unblushingly lied, have designs on their countries, will be treated with the contempt it deserves. Nor will his pledge to Turkey to respect that country's independence have the slightest effect of diverting the Turks from their pledged word to stand by Britain and her allies against totalitarian aggression. The fight is on. The Greek and British forces are already offering the Nazi armed hordes stout resistance and there is not the slightest doubt that the gallant Yugoslav forces will face up to the battle for liberty in a like manner. The peoples of Greece and Yugoslavia will, unfortunately, now have to taste the full horrors of total war—a war which the Nazis will conduct in their most brutal manner—but they will make their sacrifices readily in the cause of freedom and world peace.

POLICEWOMEN RECRUITING ABANDONED

Big Disappointment To S.C.A.

The recent decision of the Hon. the Commissioner of Police to abandon, for the time being, the idea of recruiting policewomen came as a great disappointment to the Lady Assistant to the Secretary for Chinese Affairs, Miss P. Harrop, who was learned from official sources yesterday.

It was further learned that for the past two years, both the Hon. the Secretary for Chinese Affairs and his Lady Assistant have been advocating the formation of such a force, to be placed under the control of Miss Harrop, to assist in cases concerning women and girls and to help combat the social evil.

ORIGINAL INTENTION

The original intention was to use such a force, if formed, to patrol those areas where soliciting is most prevalent and to leave the patrolling of other districts to the male members of the Police force.

These policewomen would, of course, be additional to the regular police and there would, therefore, be no question of their being scared by hoodlums as they could always summon help from other police constables on the same beat.

There is no reason, concluded the speaker, why such a force should not prove as useful and popular as those found in other great cities.

LOCAL VESSEL TURNED BACK

Turned back by a Japanese naval patrol, a Hongkong-registered ship returned to the Colony on Sunday.

It appears that the vessel left Hongkong with a cargo for Futuamun, near Kwonghol, in Chinese waters, but was stopped and informed that it would not be allowed to proceed to its destination.

Chinese reports that the ship was held up for six days at Kwonghol and the passengers were robbed are without foundation, it is added.

NEWSETTES

There was a large and gay gathering at the Cafe Windsor last night, when alumni of the Canton Pui Ching Middle School held their spring reunion in the form of a supper party. Mr. Yeung Yuen-fan, Principal of the School, spoke on the present conditions of the school in Macao.

The Hon. Dr. F. S. Selwyn-Clarke, Director of Medical Services, will give a talk on "Medical Etiquette" in the Union Assembly Room, Hongkong University, on Friday, at 5.30 p.m., under the auspices of the Hongkong University Medical Society.

An inspection of the Chinese Sappers will be carried out by Air Chief Marshal Sir Robert Brooke-Popham, Commander-in-Chief, Far East, at Murray Parade ground this morning at 8 o'clock.

The Director of Medical Services gratefully acknowledges the receipt of over 400 articles from the Mui Fong College for distribution as gifts to the refugee children in North Point Camp on Children's Day, April 4, 1941.

OPENING OF RED SEA TO AMERICAN SHIPPING A BIG FACTOR IN THE WAR

"I am not going to estimate what American aid under the Lease and Lend Act is going to be to Greece, Yugoslavia and Turkey, but the opening of the Red Sea to American shipping will be one of the big factors of the war," said MR. RAYMOND GRAM SWING, the well-known American journalist, when he broadcast from London on Sunday night.

Mr. Swing said that, in keeping with the latest strategy of the war, it was appropriate to call attention to the development of American policy.

IMPORTANT ASPECT

"The most important aspect of this," said Mr. Swing, "is a statement which President Roosevelt made at a press conference that he is expecting to authorise American ships to go up to the Gulf of Aden. This would contribute towards enabling Britain to finish her conquest of Eritrea."

Mr. Swing declared that while a good many people considered that the distance from America to England and France was not great, by this new move the United States, all of a sudden, became the next door neighbour to the Balkans by way of the Indian Ocean. The Balkans were next door to Great Britain, and, with this development, any attempt at the conquest of Singapore could be twisted out of shape.

When the Red Sea became open to American shipping, Americans would be brought in close contact with the drama of Yugoslavia.

SUPPLIES TO GREECE

Mr. Swing said that people in America were wanting to know that Greece would be supplied with what she needed by the Lease and Lend Bill. These supplies would now be actually sent round the Cape of Good Hope. This was longer than the route through the Mediterranean, a distance of 12,000 miles, but the measure of space was what one could do with it.

"One must not exaggerate what the United States will be able to do in this new situation in the Balkans," said Mr. Swing, and went on to declare that three American shipping lines were building 30 ships to be used on the route to South Africa and 32 more for the route to India.

"I am not going to estimate what the American aid under the Lease and Lend Act is going to be to Greece, Yugoslavia and Turkey, but the opening of the Red Sea to American shipping will be one of the big factors of the war."

NEUTRALITY ACT

"Under the U.S. Neutrality Act, American shipping is not allowed to enter combat zones. Some of these zones were defined by the Act itself, and some by the President. The Red Sea and the Gulf of Aden were not defined by the Act."

Mr. Swing said that $1,500,000,000 of Lend and Lease appropriations had been allocated for shipbuilding. This was in addition to the ordinary shipbuilding programme, to which 212 more ships were to be added. Half of these would be cargo ships, and the rest would be what were known as "ugly ducklings."

The Government had already on order a total of 472 ships to be built in American yards. This was most important in view of the Battle of the Atlantic. Deliveries would be made quarterly. The shipbuilding programme also called for the building of 56 new shipways—some of these would include shipbuilding yards.

"Next year American shipyards should be turning out 2,300,000 tons of shipping, and perhaps 5,000,000 tons in the future," said Mr. Swing. "It is predicted that German, Italian and Danish shipping seized by the United States Government will be put into service and leased to Britain."

U.S. ECONOMIC STRUCTURE
Mr. Swing went on to talk about something which, he said, might have escaped the notice of most people. That was in connection with the T.N.E.C. (Temporary National Economic Commission).

For two years this Commission has been gathering information in order to present to the American people an authentic picture of the United States. Its evidence was now contained in several volumes and went to prove that the economic structure of the United States has concentrated tremendous power in the hands of a few. The importance of the report was something that few people could understand.

The T.N.E.C. had presented many new points of view. One of its unanimous findings was that most of the work of the country was owned by a few large corporations, and profits went to a small group with the result that opportunities for new enterprise were restricted.

CHANGES CALLED FOR

Mr. Swing said that, during a talk he had with the Chairman of the T.N.E.C., the latter was of the opinion that nothing could be done to rebuild the economic structure of the country until the people could see what it was going to be. The T.N.E.C., therefore, had produced a guide-book to the economic system of America.

It was obvious that fundamental changes were called for, but to see that the changes would be made it was necessary to have faith that an attempt would be made to change them.

"The report of the T.N.E.C. made the statement that political freedom cannot survive if economic freedom is lost," declared Mr. Swing.

"The United States must, therefore, find a way to bring about a new civilisation if a strong economic structure is to be achieved. That is the key-note of national security, and it would be an eye-opener to many Americans."

MAIN OBJECT

Mr. Swing said that the T.N.E.C. had made a number of recommendations, but its main object, was to present facts to the people. The first step was to let every American see what most of them did not suspect—the extent to which industrial civilisation had advanced.

Mr. Swing had a word to say in conclusion about the agreement which was reached recently between the United States and Mexico for the reciprocal use of naval and air bases. This would enable bombers and aircraft to rush to the defence of the Panama Canal.

OPPRESSION OF CHINESE

Deported from French Indo-China, Mr. Huang Han-wu, a Chinese medical practitioner, revealed locally that there was oppression of Chinese residents, especially of those participating in patriotic activities, by the authorities of Indo-China since their capitulation to Japan last autumn.

Mr. Huang was one of 12 Chinese ordered to leave French Indo-China at the instance of the Japanese on Mar. 20 for taking part in patriotic activities. He has reported the circumstances surrounding their deportation to the Ministry of Overseas Affairs with the request that representations be made to the French authorities.

FAREWELL PARTY

Col. Chiang Kai-yim, of the Chinese Air Force, is leaving for the United States where he will receive treatment for throat injuries sustained in an air combat with the Japanese in Nanking about three-and-a-half years ago. A farewell dinner party was held in his honour at the Kam Lung Restaurant on Sunday evening.

It is understood that the plan has been approved by the Hongkong educational authorities.

EXPLOSION IN BALKANS IS EXPLOSION IN NAZI LARDER, SAYS ECONOMIST

"The last thing that Herr Hitler wanted was a campaign in the Balkans," said MR. LEONARD INGRAMS, the well-known economist, when he broadcast from London yesterday on the reasons which had forced the German Fuehrer to invade Yugoslavia and Greece and how the determination of these two small countries to resist his domination had upset the Nazi plans.

"Ever since Herr Hitler came into power, this war has been planned by Germany," continued Mr. Ingrams. "The first thing that people must do when they plan to conquer is to ensure that the war machine which is to turn out weapons for the soldiers can keep up a steady flow, and that munition workers and soldiers can get enough to eat."

"CUCKOO EGGS"

"So it was that for years before the war, bands of little men, dressed in black, called trade delegations, visited the Balkan capitals from Berlin. They all initiated trade agreements, like so many cuckoo eggs, and returned to Berlin."

"These agreements laid down what these Balkan countries should grow for shipment to Germany, what they should make for shipment to Germany and what they should receive from Germany. And they also defined the prices they should get for their products, because under the system of German high finance, Germany could pay good prices. It did not matter, in fact, what prices she paid, because it would be years before anyone discovered that the money they were paying for their goods was worthless."

"These cuckoo egg agreements were made by these busy little men in country after country and the local politicians, like little cuckoo birds, took a pride in them. It was not until the greedy chick had hatched out that they realised the true nature of the agreements and how their own people would have to do without things in order to feed the cuckoo chick. They found out how bread lines formed among the wheat fields of Rumania."

GERMAN LARDER

"As far as Germany was concerned, this was fine. The Balkans had also taken their place in the German war machine and the only thing left to be done was to see that they would stay put. Then Herr Hitler could have snapped his fingers at the British blockade as long as he could ensure regular supplies coming to him from the Balkans."

"An explosion in the Balkans, is an explosion in the German larder and an explosion in the German larder is serious if it cannot be restocked. It was not Herr Hitler, but Signor Mussolini who first disturbed the Balkan peace, and he would not have done so had he imagined what the Greeks would do to him."

"The Greeks not only resisted him, but threw him bodily out of their country and into Albania so that Herr Hitler has been forced to come to his assistance. That would have been all right if Yugoslavia was prepared to see their independence signed away. It was all going pretty fine and Dr. Gorbels came out with his compliments about this nation which had joined the Axis club."

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

"Then the people of Yugoslavia spoke. They had hostile intentions against no one. They only wanted to retain the integrity of their country and their young King was showing them the way. If need be to resist aggression and to fight, as his father had fought before him—a fearful dilemma for Herr Hitler, who desperately needs railway communication to supply his armies in Bulgaria."

"And so to the disgust of everybody, even the Germans themselves in Yugoslavia, the German propaganda machine drags out once again the story of atrocities. For my part, I was waiting to hear the story of the German woman being murdered. I had been waiting too for documents to be found—documents to prove that Germany was threatened—and at this very moment I have heard that these have been found, in France this time, and that they prove the culpability of Greek intrigue with Britain. I expect they must be very incriminating! I expect also that the German propaganda department was working overnight to get these documents out!"

FLAG OF FREEDOM

"And now Yugoslavia has resisted Germany and Herr Hitler will find to his cost that they are not cowards and that the flag of freedom which they have raised will safeguard many other free people besides," said Mr. Ingrams. "The attack against the Yugoslav people is bound to bring disasters in its path."

"It is not only at the Balkans we have to look. There is the shadow of shortage of the things for Herr Hitler's army. The blockade of Europe is the most formidable antagonist that Herr Hitler has to face, and beat before he can realise his victory. The blockade and the British Navy which imposes it are a mighty power in league with every man and woman who will not, in their hearts, consent to enslavement."

"There are politicians today who are seeking in their private interests to have us relax this blockade. They are asking us to betray the men in the front line. They too will find that when the people find how their leaders have worked in with the enemy, they will do what the people of Yugoslavia did and throw them out of office."

MEN OF VICHY

"German tanks cannot ride rough-shod over the cornfields of Yugoslavia. When the people in France come to realise how the British blockade is hurting Germany and how it is helping to shorten the war, they will surely have something to say on that subject to the men of Vichy."

"They will discover that it is not the venerable figurehead on the prow of the ship that is responsible, but that it is the wicked man at the helm that really wields their destiny and steers their ship through waters out of which they may not return."

"With The Help Of God We Shall Win:" King George's Stirring Message To People

ATHENS, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—"With the help of God, we shall win," declares King George of Greece in a stirring message to his people on the German attack on Greece.

"The Greek people, who have proved to the world that they rank honour above everything else, will defend it against this new enemy to the end."

"Attacked today by yet another empire, Greece, so small, is at the same time so great that she will allow no one to touch her. Our struggle will be hard and merciless. We shall not be afraid. We shall bear all our sufferings and shall not shrink from any sacrifice, but victory is waiting for us at the end of the road to crown Greece once again and for all time."

"We have at our side powerful Allies—the British Empire with its indomitable will and the United States with their inexhaustible resources. We are fighting side by side with our Yugoslav brothers, who are shedding their blood with us for the salvation of the whole Balkan Peninsula and humanity. We shall win with the help of God and the benediction of the Holy Virgin."

POPULACE CALM

The public received the news with extraordinary calmness, writes Reuter's Special correspondent. The first Greek I spoke to about it remarked: "So much the better."

Greek troops on the Albanian front heard the news with the greatest enthusiasm, declaring their confidence in victory over the new enemy and singing the National Anthem and cheering their King and country.

In military hospitals, all the wounded who could possibly do so left their beds to sing the National Anthem.

In the streets of Athens, there were scenes of much enthusiasm. Crowds are demonstrating outside the British Headquarters, chanting "We shall win!"

Processions of youth organisations are moving through the streets and crowds are gathering outside General Headquarters to watch notable personalities coming and going.

Special editions of newspapers are being torn from newsboys' hands by eager crowds.

The Greek Government have addressed a message to the Greek Army and people, calling upon them to do their duty to their country in the face of German aggression. The message reads:

"To the Greek people—The German Minister called on the Prime Minister this morning and informed him on behalf of his Government that the German Army would attack Greece. At the same moment, news was received from the frontier that the German threat had been carried out. Thus at dawn on April 6, 1941, the second member of the Axis repeated the incidents of the night of October 28, 1940."

CALL TO DUTY

"In the face of this new aggression against the honour, liberty and integrity of our country, the Greek Army and people are invited to do their duty once more to their beloved Fatherland with strength, courage and firmness, with full knowledge of the righteousness of their cause and with the blessing of God and the help of our brave and great Allies."

The message is signed by the Greek Prime Minister, M. Alexander Korizis, and all members of the Government.

FAITH IN ALLIED TRIUMPH

POLISH-CANADIAN DECLARATION

OTTAWA, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—A joint declaration of faith in an allied triumph was signed by General Sikorski, Polish Prime Minister, and Mr. Mackenzie King, Canadian Prime Minister, before the former left for Washington.

The declaration includes the announcement that arrangements are being made for constituting Polish armed forces in Canada for service overseas.

The Canadian Government will give its full co-operation in the establishment of this force, which, after a period of training in Canada, will join the armed forces of the British nation.

Italian Parachutist Executed

LONDON, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—The Fascists have shot an Italian subject, who, they alleged, was taken prisoner with the British parachutists who landed in Italy recently.

An official announcement of the execution says the victim is the 44-year-old Fortunato Picchi, condemned to death by a special Tribunal for Defence of the State. It adds the parachutists "committed acts of sabotage in the Calabrian region."

Working Together:

PRODUCTION MAINTAINED IN BRITAIN

FURNACE WORKER'S TRIBUTE

"This country has been organised during this war as never before in its history," said MR. LLEWELLYN WILLIAMS, a Welsh furnace worker, when he broadcast from London yesterday, in the series "Working Together."

GREAT DETERMINATION

Mr. Williams, who was addressing his remarks to workers in Australia, said that he had been working in a furnace in Wales for nearly 40 years. Never before had he seen men work with greater determination than now—the determination to see that the furnaces would never grow cold. The war had made a great difference to the conditions of work, but the workers were going to fight on until victory is achieved.

Mr. Williams said that many of their recreations have been suspended by war conditions but nothing could kill the team spirit of the workers.

"Rather than allow the enemy to interfere with production, which is the mainstay of our boys in the land, sea, and air, we are prepared to face any hardship," said Mr. Williams.

Those responsible for directing the industrial affairs of the nation had got together and had agreed to extend the working week, and it was marvellous how those changes had been brought about without the least criticism.

MAGNIFICENT RESPONSE

The men and women of Britain had responded magnificently to the call, and production had been maintained on a margin never dreamed of before the war. The organisation necessary to ensure this was established in every factory by mutual arrangement.

"The nerves of British workers are as sound as ever," said Mr. Williams. "We are all working together as one family and with one great aim, and that is the absolute defeat of the enemies of democracy. Factories are working night and day. Men and women, boys and girls are applying all their energies to their task to establish freedom and justice for all people."

"This explains why Australia, together with the other Dominions, is so ready to stand with us. That same spirit has now crossed the Atlantic Ocean and won the admiration and extensive support of that great democracy—United States of America."

"The day is at hand when the barbarians will have to account for the bombing of churches and hospitals and homes of innocent people, and the deaths of our doctors and nurses and others who sacrificed their lives in order to save the lives of those entrusted to their care."

U.S. SHIPBUILDING AT CAPACITY

NEW YORK.—Shipbuilders will operate at capacity for some time to come to turn out the large volume of Navy Department orders, according to the Standard Statistics Company. As new construction facilities are placed in operation next year, a substantial gain in gross billings should be witnessed, states the Christian Science Monitor.

While excess profits taxes will be heavy in some cases, earnings should be well above those in recent years. Coastal operators will benefit from increased traffic, but narrow margins will prevent worth-while improvement in earnings, except for those concerns able to sell or charter their vessels at profitable rates.

Lake carriers should show at least a moderate gain in earnings, because of the high level of tonnage in prospect.

Spurred by the huge Navy Department orders placed to build up a two-ocean navy, all major shipyards not only are operating at capacity but are actively expanding existing facilities to speed up the shipbuilding programme. In most instances, the additional facilities are being built with Government funds, and the Navy will retain ownership. This will project private operators from the burden of too much capacity when the present building programme ends and will prevent, to some extent, at least, a repetition of the financial strain suffered after the World War.

The new facilities will come in to operation gradually during the medium term, and a much higher rate of production than that now in effect will prevail during the final part in 1942.

Under the recent contracts let for 201 Navy vessels, completion was scheduled for 1945-1946, but indications are that they will be finished before that time in view of the strenuous efforts being made to speed up building. Because of the need for auxiliary boats for the Navy, the Maritime Commission also is pressing for quicker delivery of the commercial vessels being constructed under the merchant marine programme.

In addition to the large volume of work for the Navy and Maritime Commission, shipbuilding operators also are being called up to provide new vessels for England. It is reported that orders for 80 new freighters have recently been awarded to American yards. To facilitate completion of these plans are said to call for all-welded construction and the use of prefabricated materials.

OPERATORS' PROSPECTS

In all, the gross value of work handled by most shipbuilding companies for 1940 will be the best since the World War, and a further substantial rise is indicated for 1941. With the greater use of yard margins, a material expansion in operating profits is assured for some time ahead. Although excess profits taxes will be heavy in some cases, final net earnings should be well above those in recent years.

The high level of domestic business should cause a gradual rise in tonnage by coastal and inter-coastal operators in coming months. Large cargoes should also be made available to those vessels remaining in this service as a result of the elimination of a number of boats by sale or charter in the past year.

However, companies depending solely on coastal traffic will be handicapped by continued narrow margins, since costs remain high and competition from the railroads will prevent fully compensating advances in freight and passenger rates.

"At best only modest improvement in their earnings is likely during 1941. On the other hand, those concerns able to sell some of their boats at a profit or to charter vessels for their services at profitable rates, will continue to record satisfactory earnings."

Iron ore shipments on the Great Lakes in the 1940 season amounted to 63,709,000 tons, a gain of 41 per cent over 1939, and the largest for any year since 1929, when shipments totalled 65,205,000 tons. Coal traffic also ran well above last year.

With steel operations continuing at a high rate next year, iron ore shipments should set a new record, and the Great Lakes fleet should operate at capacity. Despite the 12 1/2 per cent reduction in ore and coal rates made last March, the larger traffic probably permitted well-maintained earnings in 1940, and relatively satisfactory returns are expected for 1941.

The heavy shipping losses incurred by Great Britain and efforts to replace these with American boats have caused renewed strength in charter rates after a slump during the summer.

While rates vary for different types of charter, one representative rate is now reported at about $5 a deadweight ton per month, compared with less than $3 during the summer. Prices paid by Britain for purchased vessels likewise have advanced. Recent sales of over-age vessels have been made at $50 to $80 a deadweight ton, against $45 a ton early this year.

Despite the construction of new vessels under way for Britain in this country, further purchases of old vessels here apparently will continue, since the war began, 30 vessels have been bought and 15 additional vessels are expected to be purchased soon from the over-age fleet held under the jurisdiction of the Maritime Commission. This will leave about 48 of the latter still available for sale.

As long as Great Britain remains under the necessity of replacing lost tonnage, charter rates promise to hold firm, and owners chartered vessels should continue to realize good revenues from this source. An early ending of the war of a sharp rise in ship destruction, which would materially ease British needs, obviously would cause a reversal in this situation.

Security Of The Balkans In Balance

TURKISH CABINET HOLDS MEETING

LONDON, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—"I hope Turkey will realise that this is the moment of decision when the security of all the Balkans is involved," said Mr. Herbert Morrison, Home Secretary, commenting on Germany's declaration of war on Yugoslavia and Greece at Nottingham yesterday.

Welcoming the Yugoslav-Soviet Pact of Non-Aggression, Mr. Morrison said: "We must not put too much store on that. If it means the turning point in the policy of the Soviet it will be a good thing, not only for Europe, but the Soviet."

Mr. Morrison said he believed that in the Balkans Hitler would meet someone "whom he does not wish to meet."

CABINET MEETING

ANKARA, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—The Turkish Cabinet met yesterday afternoon to consider the developments in the Balkans.

Before the meeting of the Turkish Cabinet the Foreign Minister, M. Sarajoglu, received the British, Greek and Yugoslav Ambassadors, says an Ankara dispatch from Belgrade to the New York Times.

SWEDISH COMMENTS

STOCKHOLM, Apr. 7 (Reuter).—The Swedish papers deplore the extension of the war.

The Allehanda says Moscow is obviously and intensively aware of the importance of events to come.

The Allehanda considers that fresh complications may arise through Russia.

TIMELY PRECAUTIONS TAKEN BY BRITISH GOVERNMENT

Herr Hitler has struck again and, true to type, has struck at the weakest spot, writes Reuter's diplomatic correspondent. He will find his opponents both in Greece and Yugoslavia are ready. It will not be a walk-over for him.

No official comment is yet available in London, but the presence of Mr. Anthony Eden and General Sir John Dill in Athens indicate that the British Government has been fully aware of the threat and are taking their dispositions.

It is probable that a certain fact may be revealed in the near future that will show that timely precautions have been taken.

Germany's decision to take the offensive opens new wide prospects and greatly extends the theatre of war. Herr Hitler has been forced into the move that he always tried to avoid, namely a war on two fronts.

THREE FRONTS

In fact, this is almost a war on three fronts, seeing that the Germans are now heavily engaged in Cyrenaica.

Reactions both from Ankara and Moscow will be awaited with interest. The fact that the Yugoslav Government has just signed a non-aggression pact with Moscow indicates that relations between the two countries have become very much closer.

It will also encourage the Turks in the line they have openly taken from the start of the war of nerves, namely, giving all their support to Yugoslavia and Greece.

Whether that support will be translated into material aid is the question that remains to be seen.

It is not likely that the main reason for the Nazi move towards Libya is to rescue Italy. Rather it would appear to be nothing more than a diversion designed to prevent the British from sending men and supplies across the Mediterranean to reinforce the Greeks and Yugoslavs.

12 DIVISIONS

The latest reports indicate there are already 12 German divisions in Bulgaria, while another 23 divisions are concentrating along Yugoslavia's northern frontier.

from the Italian border to the east of Belgrade, a distance of nearly 400 miles, making 600,000 men in all.

If the Yugoslavs are left to face this storm alone, brave as they are and defensible as is the country, their outlook would be grim.

But the Germans cannot throw all their forces against Yugoslavia. They must contain the Greeks north of Salonika. The Turks, behind Maritza, cannot be neglected even if the German High Command entrust this front entirely to the Bulgarian Army.

The Yugoslavs might hold their long frontier with strong detachments and covering forces only while massing their main army towards the centre of the country where they would be helped by the nature of the terrain and be able to considerably shorten their front.

MOVE SWIFTLY

They would also draw near to their allies in Greece. Britain, it is presumed, is prepared to move swiftly and resolutely to the offensive, when the time comes.

Another factor is whether the Turkish Army is likely to remain idle behind Maritza, once the Turks realise that a successful advance through Yugoslavia to the Mediterranean threatens their future extremely seriously.

If the Turks take an active part in the coming struggle, they will bring most powerful aid to the allies' cause. The struggles will be fierce and as the strategic problem, with many fronts involved, and different armies engaged, it will be very complicated and will call for great judgment, much precision and activity.

"CHINA FIGHTS ON"

Gen. Chiang's Stirring Messages To His People

WHEN JAPAN BEGAN HER AGGRESSION OF CHINA in July 1937, many Chinese and the majority of foreigners predicted that China's resistance would not last more than one year, and pointed to the sudden collapse of the resistance offered by the Chinese armies in Shanghai in 1932 as sufficient proof of their belief that the present struggle as being futile.

When Manchuria was invaded in 1931, China was totally unprepared and was in no position to resist such a formidable and allegedly first-rate power as Japan. And no one realised this more clearly than Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

In the intervening five years this brilliant statesman, orator, writer as well as great soldier, had so kneaded the various existing separate units of China into a whole that, when the Japanese leaders made their second attempt to dominate China, the Generalissimo was able to present a united front to the enemy.

How this stupendous task of unifying China was accomplished had, for long, been a source of wonder to foreigners until the various speeches delivered by this brilliant and patriotic son of China were translated into English.

"CHINA FIGHTS ON"

The latest collection, translated by Mr. Frank Wilson Price, under the title "China Fights On," embraced all messages delivered by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek from October, 1933, to January, 1940, covering practically all subjects.

The translator, who is the son of American missionaries who have been in China for over 50 years, was born in Kashiung, Chekiang province and was partly educated in Chinese schools. He speaks and writes Chinese. He took his Ph.D. degree from Yale University and B.A. from Davidson College, N.C. At present, Mr. Price is the Head of Rural Training and Rural Extension Department of Nanking Theological Seminary.

Of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, the translator, in his preface had this to say: "The moving letter of condolence to the families of the war dead, and the reply to the Oxford professors reveal another side of the Generalissimo's nature—his poetic insight and his tender sympathies. At other times he is the resolute Commander-in-Chief, the stern executive, the champion of a united front, the Cromwell-like reformer denouncing political and social weaknesses in his own country. Again, he is the world statesman... the Generalissimo shows a mind that is masterly in its grasp of both details and principles, and a character that is singularly noble, upright and sincere."

Among the collection of 42 messages of the Generalissimo contained in the publication, "China Fights On," are to be found some of Gen. Chiang's most pungent comments on Japan's war of aggression and the failings of the Chinese.

CANNOT BE DESTROYED
In a speech delivered on Oct. 10, 1938, Generalissimo Chiang said, "We are engaged in a life and death struggle. We are better prepared today than we were a year ago to prove that the Chinese nation cannot be conquered or destroyed by any alien people."

After the evacuation of Hankow, in 1938, Generalissimo Chiang gave a very clear and concise explanation of the reasons which led him to order the evacuation. "From the beginning," he said, "our plan has been to establish the bases of our resistance not along the coast or rivers, or at the centres of communication, but in the vast interior... The principal reasons for defending Wuhan were: to impede and weaken the enemy during his westward advance, to cover the establishment of lines of communication in the rear, and to shield the removal of industrial plants."

GAMBLING, DEBAUCHERY CONDEMNED

In his 1939 New Year speech, Generalissimo Chiang had some very pointed comments to make on the mode of living of some of the Government officials. Replying to the criticism that the New Life Movement lessens interest in life, China's great leader said, "They are ignorant of the fact that the New Life Movement not only does not forbid wholesome recreation, but actually includes recreation in the plan of a creative life... Such recreations are, of course, far removed from the low pleasures of gambling, debauchery, and the like, all of which are harmful to their effects upon society and upon the individual."

"For example," went on Gen. Chiang, "an official addicted to gambling, drunkenness, or prostitution neglects public affairs, wastes his money and time, and weakens his will power. Corruption and many other evils follow."

Addressing the Fifth Plenary Session of the Central Executive Committee of the Nationalist Party in Chungking on Jan. 26, 1939, Gen. Chiang gave five reasons why he was confident that China cannot be conquered, namely: (1) the morale of the army and the people was higher than at any previous time; (2) Japan did not expect China to fight as she was fighting; (3) Japan's military strategy had failed; (4) Japan had failed politically; and (5) Japan had failed to realise the mighty power of China's resistance, the irresistible growth of her national spirit, and the true significance of her national history.

"I, I, LIEN, CH'IH"

Referring to the New Life Movement in wartime, when he broadcast on the eve of the fifth anniversary of the Movement on Feb. 18, 1939, Gen. Chiang said, "The essence of the New Life Movement lies in the ancient virtues of 'Propriety, Justice, Integrity, and Conscientiousness,' manifested in our daily living," and went on to explain the true significance of the words, "Li" (propriety), "I" (justice), "Ien" (integrity), and "Ch'ih" (conscientiousness).

In the course of an interview with press correspondents, Gen. Chiang declared that "our sole purpose in resisting the invaders is to safeguard our national life and our liberty, and our independence. So long as our goal is unattained we will not cease fighting."

At the formal inauguration of the Spiritual Mobilisation Movement in Chungking on May 1, 1939, Gen. Chiang exhorted his fellow-countrymen to waken to the nation's perils and to cease living useless lives. He specially appealed to those Chinese living in the foreign concessions of Tientsin, Shanghai, Hankow and in cities like Hongkong:

"not to forget their nation's distress and humiliation. Be strong and self-reliant; preserve integrity of character; be faithful to duty; distinguish between right and wrong."

"I say this because of distressing reports that have come to me of young men and women in the foreign concessions who still spend their time in profligate pleasures with little thought of the dire need of their country."

WARTIME PRODUCTION

Gen. Chiang referred to wartime production as one of the two tremendous tasks China is engaged on, the other being resistance at the front. These two tasks, said Gen. Chiang, "must be undertaken as equally important and sacred missions. Without soldiers shedding their blood at the front, there can be no protection for production in the rear. Without production in the rear, there can be no support for resistance at the front."

The last of the messages, quoted in "China Fights On," was delivered by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek on Jan. 23, 1940, following the exposure of Wang Ching-wei's secret agreement with Japan.

"COMPLETE THE TASK"

Entitled "We will not be slaves," the message ended with this clarion call to the whole nation: "Let us press on, my comrades, until we recover our lost territory, wipe out our national disgrace, complete the task for which our brave soldiers have sacrificed their lives, and build the great China of our hopes and dreams."

"China Fights On," published by The China Publishing Co., of Chungking and Hongkong, and priced at H.K.$8 per copy, should be read by all true friends of China as, in its 365 pages, are to be gleaned a keen insight into the character and ability of the man on whom the fate of China's future lies—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.—B.

RURAL CREDIT LOANS

An agreement for the extension of $34,000,000 credit loans for the development of Kwangsi's agriculture has been concluded between the Kwangsi Provincial Government and the four Government Banks and the Central Trust of China.

Of the amount, it is learned, $12,000,000 will be for general agricultural projects, $10,000,000 for farmers in the war zones, $10,000,000 for water conservancy and irrigation projects and $2,000,000 for the development of rural subsidiary industries.

The loans will be distributed to some 82 districts in the province.—(Central News).

FOR "COMFORTING" KIANGSI FORCES

In celebration of the Chinese victory in northern Kiangsi, the Kiangsi Mobilisation Committee has decided to appropriate $118,000 as "comfort" funds to be distributed among the troops at the front.

A "Comfort Corps" is being organised and will set out from Taiho for the front on Apr. 6.—(Central News).

PRESENT PLANE

The Fukien Provincial Kuomintang Headquarters launched a campaign for raising $1,000,000 (Chinese currency) from the Kuomintang members in the province for the purchase of a plane to be presented to the National Government. The plane will be christened "Fukien Kuomintang."—(Central News).

PLAN ADVENTURE ON BIGGER SCALE IN S.E. EUROPE

It was pretty clear from the moment the Germans penetrated Bulgaria, that Herr Hitler's thoughts were turning more and more towards an offensive in South-Eastern Europe rather than against the British Isles, says Reuter's diplomatic correspondent.

His hand was probably somewhat forced by the desperate straits of his Axis partner, but there is also good reason to believe that cold-feet were not without influence on his decision.

In South-Eastern Europe, he has also been able to plan an adventure on a much bigger scale. Yugoslavia was encircled and, like Rumania and Bulgaria, Greece was to be overwhelmed by the might of the German Wehrmacht, then would come the turn of the Turks and a big pincer movement would be developed against Egypt through Libya on the one hand and Syria and Palestine on the other, once the Turks are disposed of.

SUBSIDIARY IDEA

There may have been the subsidiary idea in the back of the Fuehrer's restless mind that if Turkey proved a difficult nut to crack, there might be possibilities of fruitful conquest in the Ukraine with ultimate access to the Baku oilfields.

But the best laid schemes have a habit of running amiss. Yugoslavia has not proved a convenient tool that Hitler counted upon and the overthrow of the Tsvetkovitch Government threw out the time-table by at least 10 valuable days.

More important still, the Yugoslavs have accepted the challenge undaunted by the German war of nerves and the menace of Hitler's armoured battalions. They are not negligible opponents and have a deserved reputation of being the finest fighters in the Balkans.

The men are hardy and tough and do not know fear, and will fight while they have a cartridge and seem able to live upon the smell of garlic and the crust of bread. Camaraderie between the officers and men is exceptional.

In peace-time, their forces were divided into 16 infantry and three cavalry divisions. Fully mobilised, these figures are practically doubled, namely 30 divisions, one guards division and three mobile divisions.

OVER MILLION MEN

Probably over 1,250,000 men can be put into the field. The army is well equipped with light artillery, especially French 75's but at present there is a lack of modern anti-tank and close support weapons. A very important factor in all operations in these regions is the lack of roads and the difficult nature of the country which should handicap the aggressor, and favour the defence.

Meanwhile, the Yugoslav offensive in Albania should just about give the finishing touch to Mussolini's crumbling Greek advance in that part of Europe, especially as the time is just about ripe for a fresh Greek advance towards Valona.

TIGHTEN FOOD CONTROL

With a view to tightening government control over food supply the Kwangtung Provincial Government has ordered that a food control committee be established in each hsien.

It is understood that such committees have already been formed in Kueikong, Tsengching, Sunyi, Mowming, Kwongting, Tzekam, Loting, Suikai, Puning, Chingling, Tenghai, Waiyung, Samshui, Chingling, Ngai and Hoyuen and preparations are being in other hsien.—(Central News).

NEW SCHOLARSHIP FUND

A "Ngai Kwong-yim Memorial Scholarship Fund" will be established by the Academia Sinica as measures for its administration and distribution are now under consideration.

The fund, amounting to $50,000, was donated by the family of the late Mr. Ngai Kwong-yim, prominent Chinese in Thailand who was murdered there in November, 1939, and has been received by the Academia Sinica through the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce in Thailand.

The late Mr. Ngai was a fervent patriot, having contributed some $300,000 out of his own pocket to China after the outbreak of the Sino-Japanese hostilities, and also an enthusiastic sponsor of educational and cultural projects.

This will be the fourth Scholarship Fund of the Academia Sinica, the first being the Yang Chuen Memorial Scholarship Fund, the second, the Y.K. Ting Memorial Scholarship Fund, and the third,

Inland Navigation In Fukien

YUNGAN, Apr. 7 (Central).—The Department of Reconstruction of the Fukien Provincial Government has designed a new type of boats propelled by steam generated with charcoal.

A trial sailing of these new steamboats has proved satisfactory. They have a speed of five miles going upriver and 13 miles downstream, and a capacity of between two and six tons.

The Department of Reconstruction is planning to set up a shipyard to build 70 such steamboats within the current year and 200 the next year.

Two Chinese alleged to have engaged in espionage work for the Japanese were murdered on Friday night in their residence in Pao Hsing Lane in Rue du Consulat in the French Concession, Shanghai. The assassins escaped.—(Central News).

Ambulance Brigade

I have spoken so far on the work done by the Brigade during the past year, work which merits very high praise. The point to which I now turn is one which gives me less pleasure, and this is the subject of recruiting.

NEED FOR INCREASE

I am sorry to learn that though the Brigade has maintained its strength, it has not been able to increase it up to the establishment which the needs of the Colony require. I cannot stress too strongly the need for increasing the strength of the Brigade up to the full total required and I urge upon every one of you to serve as recruiting officers for the Brigade and not to rest until you have been able to bring to your ranks another 200 nurses and another 300 ambulance members, which will complete our proper complement.

There is no service more noble than that which the Order undertakes, and especially at such times as these; it is the duty of all good citizens to see to it that such a body as yours is not under strength.

I welcome the start made in the formation of the A.R.P. Auxiliary Reserve of St. John. This body of course is designed solely for the war period, and it is no disrespect to them if I say that I hope that they will not be needed for any great length of time. At the moment it is only a nucleus of what it is intended to be. I trust that its membership will shortly attain more worthy proportions.

I envy Lieutenant General E. F. Norton for his having had the honour and the pleasure of bestowing the Insignia of a Commander of the Venerable Order upon His Honour Sir Atholl Macgregor. The zeal and ability which Sir Atholl Macgregor has so generously devoted to the Association as Chairman of the Executive Council well merited the honour bestowed by His Majesty the King, the Sovereign Head of our Order, upon him, and I know full well that every friend of St. John's in Hongkong rejoiced on that occasion.

FINANCIAL AFFAIRS

A word or two on financial affairs. I want in the first place to pay a big debt of gratitude to the Association and Brigade owes to one who has laboured much on their behalf and whose advice and assistance is always at our disposal. In August last, the Director of Medical Services, Dr. Selwyn-Clarke, received from the National Red Cross Society of China a cheque for $100,000 Shanghai National currency for the furtherance of medical projects in this Colony.

That cheque, which realised more than $24,000 in Hongkong currency, was handed over by Dr. Selwyn-Clarke to St. John's in Hongkong to be a special fund solely devoted to the establishment and equipment of First Aid Posts here.

Every citizen of Hongkong must appreciate the generous spirit in which the National Red Cross Society of China sent that munificent gift to the Colony; to that gratitude in which all share St. John's in Hongkong adds its warmest thanks to Dr. Selwyn-Clarke for the use to which he has put the gift.

Lastly, it would be quite unprecedented were I as your President to end these remarks to which you listen at each annual inspection without appealing to the public for further financial help. I ask every member of that public who is in a position to give something to the Brigade, whether little or much, to think for a minute of the services which this Brigade is designed and trained to give to them.

I appeal for a moment's thought to be given to the devotion which its members have shown and are showing in fitting themselves for an emergency of which we have the thought but from which we will not shrink.

At all times it is very necessary that the work of the Brigade should go forward, but in wartime that necessity is more than doubled. No public-spirited man or woman can deny or disregard the claim upon his purse which the Brigade makes upon it, and especially at such a time as this.

LOYAL WORKERS

There is a host of loyal and energetic workers in our cause whom I would like to mention gratefully by name on this occasion; and I refrain only because the list is too

His Excellency the Governor presenting a trophy at the annual inspection of the St. John Ambulance Brigade yesterday. —(King's Studio).

Yugoslav "Quisling" Says His Piece

LONDON, April 7 (Reuter) — Yugoslavia has its "Quisling," namely Dr. Pavelic, the Croat Nationalist leader, who in a broadcast yesterday from the so-called "Freedom Station" of the terrorist organisation Ustasha, declared: "Croatia will fight at the side of the Axis for the New Order in Europe."

Dr. Pavelic spoke of the Croats' "years of tyranny under the Serbs" and appealed to his hearers to co-operate with the Axis.

His appeal is being broadcast at frequent intervals from the Nazi Zecken station.

MARINE COURT

PROHIBITED ANCHORAGE

For anchoring in a prohibited area in the Tathong Channel Minefield, Lam Chai, junk master, Tsui Kwok and Tang Lai To, junks, were fined $30 each by Commander T. C. Stiff yesterday.

Li Yau, junk master, was fined $10, or 10 days for loitering with his boat within 100 yards of the sea wall at the Royal Naval Yard, Kowloon.
